Did Themselves Credit.

An incident occurred during General Sweeney's lecture before the teachers' institute Monday evening, that is worthy of being recorded, as it shows the place Admiral Schley has in the hearts of the people and their readiness to accord him full credit for his splendid victory over Cervera's fleet at Santiago. The lecturer was discussing our navy, and stated that an emergency never arose but a hero was forthcoming equal to it, citing Paul Jones, Commodore Perry, Admiral Dewey, and finally Admiral Schley as examples. Dewey's name evoked cheers, but there was a storm of applause at the mention of Schley's name. General Sweeney denounced in scathing terms the naval clique now hounding Schley.—Brookville Democrat.

Republican Primary Election in February.

There was a large attendance of county committeemen at the Republican convention held in the court house at Brookville Wednesday afternoon. The resolutions presented at the meeting held in Brookville on 4th inst., proposing several changes in the rules governing the Republican party in Jefferson county, mention of which was made in THE STAR on 11th inst., was passed unanimously. Among the changes was that in presidential and gubernatorial years the primary election for nominating all candidates for state and county offices be held on third Tuesday of February. The polls to be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. Each member of the primary election boards are to get $2.00 per day when polls are open all day.

The passing of resolution to hold the primary election next February means that the candidates will hustle from now until that time. The candidates that we know of positively are as follows:

Congress, Hon. W. O. Smith, of Punksutawney.

Assembly, Hon. Henry I. Wilson, of Big Run, Lex N. Mitchell, of Punksutawney, Curtis R. Vashinder, of Brookville, S. Taylor North, of South Young township.

Sheriff, John H. Null, of Sykesville, J. W. Curry, of Snyder township, Charles Hawk, of Young Township.

Treasurer, George M. Galey, of Eldred township, R. H. McIntosh, of Washington township, J. B. Means, of Perry township.

Register and Recorder, Gil C. Reitz, of Brookville, John D. Evans, of Brookville.

Prothonotary, Cyrus H. Blood, of Brookville.

County commissioner, Jacob Shaffer, of Rathmel, Newton Webster, of Polk township, Harvey D. Haugh, of Union township, A. F. Reitz, of Beaver township, Jacob C. Smith, of Young township.

There are others who will be candidates.
